

Julia Reihs

I think life is amazing. Of course, nature is at the core of that. I have grown up in a family that loves to hike and is environmentally aware. Trees are my friends. I enjoy spending my time teaching sixth-grade students at Outdoor School. Human rights are also important to me, as I started a STAND (student-led anti-genocide coalition) chapter at my school, working to better the lives of genocide victims in the Congo, Darfur, and other regions. Journalism is my passion, and I hope to become a documentary filmmaker and continue writing for the rest of my life.
